

SANTO J. AURELIO AWARD FOR ALTRUISM NOMINATION FORM

Nominations must be received by Friday, July 7, 2017.

The NCRF Santo J. Aurelio Award for Altruism was established through a generous contribution by Josephine Aurelio, of Boston, Massachusetts, to honor her husband's lifelong dedication to the court reporting profession and his selfless pursuit of education, both for himself and for others.

HONOR SOMEONE SPECIAL!

- Do you know a dedicated court reporter who gives tirelessly to the profession, strictly out of devotion and not for any personal gain?
- Here's your opportunity to nominate that reporter for NCRF's Santo J. Aurelio Award for Altruism.
- For a list of past recipients, visit NCRA.org/NCRF/Scholarships.

NOMINATION CRITERIA

1. The nominee must be an NCRA member in good standing from the following categories: Registered Member, Participating Member, Retired Registered Member, or Retired Participating Member.
2. The nominee must have demonstrated altruistic behavior – unselfish regard for or devotion to the welfare of others – in accordance with the following definition: Altruism is a behavior by a person that is not of benefit, or may even be harmful, to himself or herself but that benefits others. Altruism is not merely helping others; believing that you have a duty to help others, not that you owe others, is altruism – self-sacrifice, not self-interest.
3. The nominee must have been a working court reporter for at least 25 years, demonstrating career longevity and commitment.
4. All nominations will be reviewed by the Aurelio Award for Altruism Task Force. The recipient will be approved by the NCRF Board of Trustees and announced at the 2017 NCRA Convention & Expo.

NOMINATION STEPS

- Keeping the above criteria in mind, complete the information on page two and submit by July 7, 2017.
- All information requested must be provided or the nomination is invalid and will not be considered.
- You may nominate more than one person; however, you must complete a separate nomination form for each nominee.

SUBMISSION

Please submit nominations by Friday, July 7, 2017, to B.J. Shorak, NCRF Deputy Executive Director, via email to bjshorak@ncra.org, by fax to 703-391-0629, or by mail to 12030 Sunrise Valley Drive, Suite 400, Reston, VA 20191-3484.
